

Accelerate your research career with a world-leading joint PhD program

The University of Queensland (Australia) and the Indian Institute of Technology Delhi have joined forces to deliver a joint PhD program through its Academy of Research.

We are seeking Expressions of Interest (EOI) from exceptional applicants with passion for research for admissions in January 2025. Multiple PhD positions are available for outstanding students to work on a wide range of projects along side with world-leading experts in science, technology, engineering, healthcare, humanities, and social sciences.

Upon successful completion of the program, students will be awarded a joint Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) from both institutions.

Why join the Academy

- Jointly awarded PhD
- Study at two world-class universities
- Be supported by a generous scholarship
- Study in Australia and India
- Receive relocation support and research travel grants
