Nurturing Minds Through Progressive Research: Unveiling the Future

Focussing on the process: Techniques and resources for your academic writing

As HDR students, we often focus on the outcomes we have to produce: a paper, a talk, a thesis. However, the way to get there can remain a mystery: How do we start, revise, find words? In this session, we turn to the writing process and discuss resources and try techniques to support you on the way to your writing goals.
